

Governance is the heart of an organization. Being guided by Top Management, it listens to Stakeholders feedback and sets the tone for Risk Management, Compliance and Corporate Culture.

Compliance ensures adherence to laws and regulations. It is enforced by Regulatory Agencies and is influenced by Corporate Culture. It enhances Risk Management and is verified through Audits.

Risk Management involves activities to identify and address vulnerabilities of an organization. Its activities are essential for maintaining compliance and informing strategic decision-making.

Corporate Culture influences the behavior of individuals in an organization. A strong corporate culture aligned with governance principles and compliance standards fosters ethical behavior and commitment to organizational objectives.
