The map shows how a company is managed and controlled, focusing on the key roles of the Board of Directors and top management in setting the company's direction and ensuring it follows rules and ethical standards. It highlights corporate culture, which encourages transparency and ethical behavior. Compliance is emphasized, ensuring the company adheres to laws and regulations, which helps it operate smoothly and responsibly. Risk management is also crucial for maintaining stability and achieving strategic goals. The maturity of compliance practices shows how they evolve from simply following rules to becoming a strategic part of the company's operations, improving overall governance and effectiveness.
