

Rui Martins 110890

A Business Organization is an entity that provides a service or good. To keep this activity growing and lucrative is essential to have a sustainable business model the board and the shareholders see as viable. If the business is doing too well, the Shareholders and StakedHolders can start becoming greedy which can lead to bad decision-making, thus is important to make the right Risk Managment to keep things healthy. The Governance department ensures that everyone meets their conditions, needs and options while ensuring agreement between everyone. The Compliance Department ensures the company complies with the law. Finally, the company is composed by a CEO and CTO, that aim to drive the company to the agreed direction in the several departments while following the Corporate Culture.