Description:

- CEO is the leader of an Organization.
- The Organization depends on Stakeholders (which includes the CEO).
- The Organization follows a Corporate Culture, which influences GRC, required by the Organization.
- "GRC is the integrated collection of capabilities that enable an organization to reliably achieve objectives", and denotes, as capabilities: Governance, Risk and Compliance.
- Governance establishes the principles and framework for achieving the organization's objectives, directing Risk Management and evaluating Stakeholders needs, conditions and options.
- Governance, with the right direction, eventually achieves Assessment that ensures that Compliance is assured.
- Risk Management reduces Risks (that can affect Compliance), informs Governance and is validated by Assessment.
