The [100] organization operates within a framework set by [113] Governance, which establishes [118] ethical values and ensures [130] compliance. [150] Management executes this vision, fostering a culture aligned with these values. A strong ethical culture promotes both risk mitigation and adherence to regulations. An overseeing [111] Governing Body holds everyone accountable. [104] Stakeholders, impacted by both [113] Governance and [117] Corporate Culture, have a vested interest in the [100] organization's success.
